“rather than letting fear stop us, it should inspire us to experiment with new approaches that prove which advertising is most profitable, so we can be more creative in our efforts.”

Using a pressure cooker results in the most thermal degradation, followed by using a rice cooker.