arrange a time frame for each grade; in elementary school, for example, set aside a half hour for first and second graders and an hour for third and fourth graders