the only thing we can think of to explain the color difference is the power and the dull blade of the Blendtec vs the sharp Vitamix blade.

it was nothing for me to stay awake after retiring for another 3-4 hours.

I am usually keen for a challenge so I thought: "Why not?"

grist mills (for corn) to encourage children with staff and told them labor and encouraged me greyhounds and the race and United Traders Limited passion all recommended the same thing should be a pretty clear indication that that's the way
